since there is no surgery, there is no downtime when individuals are educated on the dangers of drugs, even prescription drugs they are forced to face facts the explosion of drug-related violence in mexico since 2006 may change american attitudes toward the drug problem hey thisname, i have the same problem here with kids being pushed off on me