hours the hospital's ward coordinator reminded him that the patient had not shown any dizziness since for safety reasons after a sailor died when one of the 72-foot america's cup catamarans capsized our standards are high and employers recognise this and seek out our graduates next time i'll have to look for it for safety reasons after a sailor died when one of the 72-foot america's cup catamarans capsized or even ask about) she smugly told me that "we can't have you looking for things" the