are not making eye contact, says Michael Joseph, 24, an account executive at a public relations firm.

"It's very troubling, because this law makes Medicare more secure than it's ever been.